

AUTRE

Tim Hawkinson Presents New Works @ DENK Gallery In Los Angeles

21 March 2019 | By Agathe Pinard

New Works is a new series of sculptural works, and large-format drawings on paper, that continue to explore multidisciplinary artist Tim Hawkinson's playful and morbid morphologies. The artist disassembles the familiar and stages dysfunctional propositions in which the self repeatedly appears as the only, albeit imperfect, measure of experience and inventive return to obsessive craft in service concept exists in an expanded and embodied field, dramatized by the inclusion of living variables like time, breath (sound), and movement.

All photographs courtesy of DENK Gallery.

